Geo. Hall and Sidney McNeil were in from their homes near Voltage Thursday. Both young men are homesteaders in that vicinity and have great hopes of the future of the territory.

The stage didn't get here until after 11 o'clock last night owing to the deep snow which had drifted in places as deep as 8 feet. It will take a few days to get the roads broken through these deep drifts and since we need the snow we can put up with delayed mails for a short time.

At three o'clock this afternoon the "Darktown Minstrels" billed for Tonawama tomorrow night had not reached Lincoln's in Bear Valley, although they left Canyon early this morning. It is doubtful if they will reach here in time to fill their engagement tomorrow evening. Later: A telephone conversation with them just held states they will be here without fail tomorrow night. Secure seats tomorrow afternoon.

Card of Appreciation

We take this means of expressing our sincere thanks to the many who so nobly and heroically fought last Tuesday night to save our home and property. It is impossible for us to particularize in this respect other than to the fire men, friends and even strangers, who came to our assistance, climbed on the burning roof and took their lives in their hands to render service. Our household goods were not only removed from danger but also guarded throughout the night and replaced the following day. Mere words seem a poor return for such service, yet this seems the only means at our command. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Locher. Josephine Locher.

Tonawama Special Features.

The management to Tonawama has planned to avoid interfering with the school work of the children and has therefore not given any picture programs during the school days of the week but owing to a misunderstanding as to date desired the film house has shipped the special three-reel feature, "Cinderella" to arrive here for Wednesday night. This was asked for the children especially and intended for next Saturday, but since it is coming it must be used and returned to the film house in regular order therefore it will be produced Wednesday night, Jan. 22. The management will not make any extra charge for this feature but leave the admission price the same as all mid-week pictures, 10 and 15 cents. The first show will begin promptly at 7 o'clock on that evening so the children may get home early. The reels will be run through twice so those who cannot come that early may see the entire show by coming later, but for the particular benefit of the children the first show will start early.

Latest Stock Reports

The following is a late report of the stock market from the Portland Union Stock Yards: Receipts for the week have been Cattle, 1131; Calves, 13; Hogs, 7184; Sheep, 3226; Horses, 20.

Cattle liquidation this week has been far short of supplying trade requirements. Killers show a keen desire for prime beef, but are not overlooking medium grades, so urgent in the call. Heavy fed steers steady to strong at $7.50 to $7.75, fully a quarter higher than previous market periods. All claims of butcher stuff selling strong, with cows and heifers having the lead, tops bringing $6.75 Friday.

The swine market experienced sharp losses during the week, as receipts totaled over 6000 head and proved a veritable glut to trade channels, opening at $8.00 to $8.10 Monday. The market dropped to $7.90 by mid-week and closed steady to weak $7.50 to $7.65.

The mutton market is steady to a shade higher and the tendency is decidedly upward. Receipts have been unsatisfactory and anxious buyers are bidding stronger prices for prime ewes and wethers. Three car loads of wethers, selling at $5.85 and ewes at $4.50 indicate the bullish attitude in the sheep house. Few lambs are coming forward and the market is steady to strong. Top sales made around $6.75.

Married--Sunday night at the Burns hotel, Daniel P. Penick and Meta V. Hartwell were united in marriage. Dr. C. C. Babbidge of the Presbyterian church performing the ceremony in the presence of a few of the relatives. Mr. Penick is a brother of Mr. N. A. Dibble. He came out from California a couple of years ago on a visit and decided to remain permanently, taking a homestead in the Silver Creek country. The bride is also a homesteader of that section and is a very sweet young lady. Dr. Babbidge reports that it was a hard job to keep Dell Dibble still long enough to perform the ceremony, but found Mrs. Dibble able to handle him finally. Mr. and Mrs. Penick will make their home on the homestead and they have the best wishes of a large circle of friends for a happy and prosperous life.

Joe Morris, who has been at the N. Brown & Son store in this city as far back as the oldest resident can remember and never taken a vacation, is going to get reckless. He actually is going to leave the county for a while, provided he can get any one to haul him out to the railroad. He engaged passage on the auto to Bend but the people don't seem to want him to go, as the auto will not carry him alone and no one has signified any desire to engage passage to make it possible for him to get away. However, he informs us there is likelihood of a load going out tomorrow so he will get in the front seat. Joe is going to visit various cities of the coast and will spend some time in San Francisco and other California towns where he roamed when a boy. He will visit relatives and have a general rest and good time. He deserves it.

Best Vetch For Eastern Ore.

That hairy vetch is best for eastern Oregon conditions, but that the smooth variety is the one to grow in the western part of the state, was stated by Prof. A. D. Scudder in a short course lecture at the Oregon Agricultural College last Monday. "The smooth vetch is the variety much grown in western Oregon, but in the eastern part of the state it can not stand the cold, so the hairy variety is used," said the speaker. "It is grown as a winter cover crop. It is a waste of time to be trying other than the smooth variety here in the western portion of the state. "A crop of vetch sown in October should be ready in May, and a crop sown in December should be ready the first week of June. Although less valuable than clover, vetch has good qualities, being cosmopolitan, with a tendency to increase fertility rather than decrease it.

"It is valuable for many kinds of feeding, as hay, led green an a soiling crop, and as pasture, although it is not generally used for pasturage. It can be used also as silage either alone or mixed with corn."

First Road Bill From Umatilla

The first road bill of the session, framed on district county building lines, has been introduced in the state senate by Barrett of Umatilla. It is confined to prescribing the manner in which counties may vote bonds for road improvement.

It provides that upon a petition of one-fourth of the voters of any county, a special election must be called, the petition setting out the amount of the bond issue. If a petition be signed by one-twentieth of the voters, the county court may or may not order an election. If a petition be signed by one-tenth of the voters, a vote must be taken at the succeeding general election. In either event, the amount for which a county may be bonded for road building must not exceed two per cent of the assessed value of property in the county. The bill also provides for establishing a sinking fund to redeem the bonds.
